CLIMBS TO TOP OF CAPITOL BUILDING IN AUSTIN, TEXAS

The much-traveled Miss Norma Jean Belloff, Ocean Beach girl who is making a cross-country bicycle trip, had an exciting and almost tragic experience when she decided to float down the Texas Colorado river. Following are details of her experience, told in excerpts from her letters to her mother, Mrs. F. H. Belloff, 2111 Mendocino Blvd.:

April 28, Monday—Left San Antonio, rode in the rain. Slept in roadside park amid daisies. Saw first fireflies. Farmer gave me warm milk.

April 29, Tuesday—Reached Austin about 3, went straight (Continued on Page Two)

VFW Post Plans Sale Of Buddy Poppies Today and Saturday

In conjunction with nation-wide observance of Memorial Day by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, members of VFW Post 2415 will honor their comrades who died in World Wars I and II on that day. Commander Frank Sholly of the local post announced that the 1947 Buddy Poppy campaign would be May 23 and 24, and urged members of his post and the public to give their complete support to this worthy cause.

National Commander Louis E. Starr will place a wreath of poppies on the tomb of the unknown soldier on Memorial Day. He has sent the following message to the posts: "This wreath symbolizes our remembrance of our comrades who died in defense of their country, and represents through sale of Buddy Poppies the manner we chose to honor the dead by helping the living." Proceeds from the sale of Buddy Poppies contribute to the support of the orphans and widows of war dead at the V. F. W. National Home in Eaton Rapids, Mich. Rehabilitation of disabled veterans is also aided by the money received from the sale of poppies.

Commander Sholly indicated that "sale of poppies offers a concrete and beneficial means of remembering our war dead by helping those for whom they sacrificed so much."

MEET YOUR OCEAN BEACH NEIGHBORS

Rev. P. O. Jensen

In view of the fact that Rev. P. O. Jensen is to preach his last sermon at the Ocean Beach Baptist church Sunday, we feel that it is appropriate to have the reverend as our "Ocean Beach Neighbor" for this week.

He was born in Jensonston (named after a relative) Ky., in 1882 and attended grammar school and high school in Louisville. Deciding on the ministry for his career, Rev. Jensen received his theological training in the Baptist Seminary in Louisville and the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago. His first assignment was to the pastorate at Washington Island, Wis.

In August, 1905, the reverend had married Harriett Sierts in Highland Park, Ill. The Jensons came to Ocean Beach in the summer of 1940. Prior to coming to Ocean Beach, Rev. Jensen served churches in Louisville, Ky., Quincy, Ill., and Denver, Colo.

During Rev. Jensen's seven years at the Ocean Beach Baptist church, he welcomed a total of 620 new members to the congregation. Improvements on the church edifice were made at a total cost of about $10,000. He officiated at 110 weddings during his service here.

The Jensons have two sons—Beaumont, who is connected with the Atlantic and Pacific Stores in Memphis, Tenn., and Lowell, who will graduate from the University of Southern California on June 14 this year. Lowell majored in social science at the university. Both boys are veterans of World War II. The Jensons plan to continue living at their present address, 4672 Green St.

Rev. Jensen has devoted his time almost exclusively to church work, although he derives great enjoyment from an occasional shuffleboard game at the court in Balboa Park. He announced that he hopes to give more time to his favorite sport in the future.

Law Office Opened In Mailway Building

Announcement was made this week of the opening of a new law office in the Mailway offices at 4815 Newport Avenue. Ben B. Rubin and Norman T. Seltzer, attorneys at law, will be available to serve the legal needs of the community beginning this week. Mr. Rubin has been a resident of San Diego for 35 years and has been in practice for 15. He was formerly associated with Judge Edward J. Kelly and was for three years counsel for the plant engineering department of Consolidated-Vulcan.

Mr. Seltzer has been a San Diegoan for 27 years and began private practice two years ago, upon being discharged from the U. S. Army Air Force, in which he served as navigator. Prior to entering the service, Mr. Seltzer served in the Trial Judge Advocate's office in Monroe, La., for two years.

The partners have their downtown offices in the Bank of America building.

Padres to Battle Sacramento at Lane Field May 27-June 1

Pacific Coast league baseball bounces back into the local sports picture at Lane Field, Tuesday night, when the San Diego Padres open an eight-game series with the Sacramento Solons. The two clubs will play single night games Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, an evening double-header Memorial Day and a twin bill Sunday afternoon.

In spite of recent setbacks at Portland and Seattle, the Padres remain as one of the strongest teams in the circuit this season. Padre stock increased considerably when Johnny "Swede" Jensen returned to the outfield, having been sidelined with an ankle injury. One of the league's leading hitters, Jensen will aid the Border City cause tremendously.

Sacramento was the only club to take the measure of the Padres during the spring exhibition season although next week's series will be their first official loop meeting of the year. Manager Dick Bartell has an excellent mound staff with Guy Fletcher, Garth Mann, Al Smith and Tony Freitas topping the list.

Heavy artillery is boasted by both clubs. For the Padres, Max West, Jensen, Dain Clay, Frank Kerr and Vince Shupe are the big guns. The Solons depend on Joe Marty, Bill Ramsey and Steve Mesner to lead their "hit parade."

Like San Diego, Sacramento will be struggling to keep pace (Continued on Page Four)

Plan Festival at O. B. Elementary School Thursday

MISS JOHNSON ELECTED PRESIDENT OF SAN DIEGO EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

(By Gwendolyn Townsend)

Miss Frances Johnson, second grade teacher, last week was elected president of the San Diego Branch of the Association for Childhood Education. During the past year, Miss Johnson has served as recording secretary. An international group, the A. C. E., merged in 1930 with the International Kindergarten Union, and now has over 43,000 members. Its forward-looking program is serving the needs of children from nursery school through the elementary school years.

Miss Johnson Honored
The sixth grade class, with the co-operation of the children of grades one to five, are presenting a festival of singing and dancing on Thursday, May 29, at 1:15 p. m. The seats will be arranged in a semi-circle on the Newport Avenue side of the playground.

The entire program centers about the sixth grade's original (Continued on Page Six)

O. B. KEGLERETTE ACTIVITIES

(By Phil White)

The gals in Ocean Beach are really going strong in their Wednesday night league. Last Wednesday night, handicap bowling was used by all the teams. It makes it tough on the high bowlers, but us poor ones have a chance. Sharman's Flower Shop remains in the lead with seven wins and one loss; Jo's Flower Shop and Family Barber Shop tied with six wins and two losses; Hank's Card Room has five wins and three losses; Bechtel Insurance, three wins and five losses; Fried's Clothing, two wins, six losses; Pacific Shores, two wins, two losses; and Blue Pacific Cafe, one win and seven losses. Incidentally, Blue Pacific with four beginning bowlers, really bowled the Sharman's Flower Shop gals last Wednesday night. They took their first game of the season and took it without the spot.

An open meeting was held Wednesday, May 21, at the Ocean Beach Bowl. Frances Zweiner, president of the San Diego W. I. B. C., presided over the meeting. She discussed handicap bowling, which was voted in by a vote of 21 to 10 for the league this summer. Connie Bechtel invited Ocean Beach girls to enter a fun-

Modern Pilgrim Lands With Turkey

(Studio of the Cliffs)

ZOOKIE, Ocean Beach's "dark turkey" entry in the County Fair Turkey Sweepstakes, is shown in a maritime pose, which local Chamber of Commerce officials decided would be a fitting background for the pictorial debut of the Beach "thorbird." The lad with the hammerlock on Zookie is Don Roy Hammond, Dana Junior High school student, who will jockey the bird in the 100-yard sprint. A few minutes before this picture was taken the "barge" capsized, dunking turkey and jockey, and accounting for the somewhat bedraggled appearance of both parties. Reports are that Zookie's speed wasn't impaired by the salt bath. Life raft by courtesy of Noel's War Surplus Store.

National Women's Club President Visits Ocean Beach Center

Ocean Beach was honored yesterday afternoon by a visit from America's leading clubwoman, Mrs. La Fell Dickinson, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, who was conducted on a tour of the new Ocean Beach Community Center by Mrs. Donald C. Muchmore, chairman of the Ocean Beach Civic Committee. The tour was arranged by Mrs. C. W. Early of Ocean Beach, who is first vice-president of the county federation. Accompanying Mrs. Dickinson were Mrs. E. W. Shirk of Redlands, junior adviser for the General Federation, and Mrs. Marybelle Allen, official delegate from the Culver City club, who is a house guest of Mrs. Early. Mrs. Dickinson is especially interested in youth recreation and has done a great deal of work in promoting community centers throughout the country.

Kiwanis Club Hears Talks by Students Of Pt. Loma High

The Ocean Beach Kiwanis club was addressed by four Point Loma High school students at the Tuesday evening meeting in Wallace hall. Talks which were described as "inspiring" were given by Jack Gross, who spoke on "Can Youth Strengthen Our Government"; Bob Tupper, whose theme was "Taps and Reveille"; Dave Finster, "The Rights We Defend"; and Paul Kaneyuki, who was recently chosen "Athlete of the Month" by the Athletic Foundation, and who talked on physical education.

Also on the program were several musical numbers by Pointer music students, directed by Miss Vera June Parrott. Program chairman was L. L. Bloomenshine, principal of the Point Loma High school. A guest was Ed Kilburn of East San Diego club. Eight members of the Key club, a Kiwanis-sponsored youth organization at Point Loma High school, also attended.

Evelyn Stradley, On Hike to Frisco, Encounters Bulls

DESCRIBES BEAUTY OF OLD MISSIONS ON ROUTE TO MOUNTAINS

Miss Evelyn Stradley, Ocean Beach's walkingest lassie, is now at Lake Arrowhead in her foot trek to San Francisco. Mrs. Carl Oberg of 4605 Saratoga Ave. received the following letter from Miss Stradley, which the News prints in answer to many requests as to more details on this daring adventure:

The Beachcomber

Considerable comment about a fishing party which Ted Bates, Jess Richmond, Hugh Fields and Archie Gaddy had planned for last week-end at Lake Henshaw. Seems that Ted had volunteered to arrange boat reservations for the party. The eager lads arose before dawn Sunday morning, drove to the lake and waited for their names to be called for a boat. They waited until all the boats were gone and then, indignantly demanding to know the score, discovered that Mr. Bates reservations were for Saturday a. m., not Sunday. A red-faced Ted was permitted to accompany the disgruntled fishermen on the long, fish-less voyage home.

Wondering—When big-time investors are going to wake up to possibilities of making Ocean Beach a little Santa Monica, complete with big hotels and apartment houses.

Still wondering—Why there are pieces of sidewalk on Newport which have not been cemented all the way across.

Bouquet—To Rev. P. O. Jensen, who has done a noble work as pastor of the Ocean Beach Baptist church for the last seven years, and who will preach his last sermon Sunday.

Crackerbox Derby Entrants to Talk Race Preparations at Monday Meeting

Work Starts Monday On Locker-Armory At Pt. Loma High

Announcement was made this week that the contract to construct the new Point Loma High school boys' locker and armory building has been awarded to the I. C. Curry Construction Co. The Curry bid, lowest of four submitted, was for $111,890.

Dr. Ralph C. Dailard, business manager for the city school system, pointed out that, although this bid is over the original estimate of $100,000, the figure compares favorably with contracts awarded for similar construction in southern California. The $111,890 represents a construction cost of $10.78 a square foot. The necessity for considerable plumbing and tile work contributes to this cost, Dr. Dailard emphasized.

The contract will be signed in Dr. Dailard's office today, and work should be started Monday. The new building will be located south of the main building, at the end of the athletic field.

Legion Auxiliary To Sell Memorial Poppies Today

Organization of a large corps of volunteer workers to distribute memorial poppies on Poppy Day, May 23 (today) was announced by Mrs. Mary Fold, Poppy chairman of Clyde A. Wright Unit 433 of the American Legion Auxiliary. "More than 3000 poppies are to be offered for sale this year," she said.

Poppy Day volunteers will be formed into teams and assigned to various locations in the city. They will be on duty throughout the day, offering poppies to be worn in honor of the dead of both world wars and receiving contributions for the welfare of disabled veterans and dependent families of veterans.

"The response to the call for volunteers for Poppy Day duty has been very gratifying," said Mrs. Fold. "Distributing the poppies is hard, unaccustomed work" (Continued on Page Six)

FUTURE TEACHERS FROM PLHS VISIT ELEM. SCHOOLS

Thirty-eight students of the Point Loma High school participated in the city-wide program arranged to encourage students to enter the teaching profession, by visiting the classrooms of the elementary schools. These visits are planned to interest the best student leaders in elementary school teaching. The students invited have either expressed interest in the profession or have decided on it as life career. A tour was conducted by the principal and included one of each of the grades. After the visits the students and the teachers they visited had lunch together and this gave them an opportunity for an open discussion.

O. B. Community Center News

Three hundred guests are expected to attend the annual dinner to be given by the Cub Scouts at the Ocean Beach Community Center on Friday night (tonight) at 6 o'clock. The dinner climaxes the activities of the Scouts for the year.

Increased attendance at Family Night at the Center indicates that this activity is growing in popularity with the community. Family Night activities, which begin at 7:30 p. m. every Wednesday, are planned particularly for adults, although fun is provided for children in the game room. Last week coffee and doughnuts were served and refreshments will be served again if parents so desire.

Interest has been expressed by several adults in organizing a bridge group for Family Night, and a special invitation is extended to any who wish to join the game.

Thirty women were in attendance last week at the women's gym class which meets every Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Activities include exercises, volleyball and basketball. (Continued on Page 4)

TWO BIKES, TWO RADIOS TO BE AWARDED WINNER OF JUNE 29 COMPETITION

Jack Stevenson, in charge of the Kiwanis Club-sponsored Crackerbox Derby, this week urged all boys who are building or planning to build entries for the derby to obtain an entry blank from himself at the Ocean Beach Garage, from Glen Cord at the Cords Paint Store or from Bill Morlin at Morlin's Tot Shop. The derby will be held June 29 and the course will be down Newport Avenue.

Mr. Stevenson has also asked that all prospective contestants meet with the committee in charge of the event Monday evening, May 26, at 7:30, in the Ocean Beach Garage. At this time rules for the race will be clarified and a list of prospective sponsors among Ocean Beach merchants will be read. Each contestant is urged to contact a merchant to obtain his sponsorship, which will include purchase of the wheel for the racer. A great many merchants have indicated their desire to sponsor an entry in this event, and no boy should experience any difficulty in obtaining a sponsor, reports Mr. Stevenson.

Prizes will be awarded to the winners in each of the two age divisions. Goodrich bicycles, or display at Montgomery's Auto and Home Supply, will be awarded to the first place winners in each division, with a plaque to the grand prize winner. Second place winners will receive radios.

While this event is not directly connected with the official Soap Box Derby, to be held in San Diego later in the summer, the rules will be identical and thus any racer which qualifies to enter the local event will also be eligible for the official competition. Entry blanks for the Soap Box Derby may be obtained from the City Chevrolet Company in San Diego.

Young O.B. Mormons Return from Missions

A home-coming party was given for Miss Eva Stoker and Elder Curtis Baird, two returning missionaries, by the LDS relief society of the Mormon church last Wednesday evening. Both of them are from Ocean Beach and Miss Stokes has been with the Canadian Mission while Elder Curtis Baird was stationed in the North States Mission. They have been gone for over a year.

There were 300 members and friends present to welcome them and a program was given in their honor, consisting of a guitar and vocal solo by two members, Alford and Frances Clark, and two piano solos by Jerry Miller. Sixteen members of the "Bee Hive Girls," girls from the ages of 12 to 15 gave "Pioneer Folk Dances."

The two honorees gave talks on their work and life with the missions. Following the program the remainder of the evening was spent dancing.

SPRING CONCERT AT PLHS

The annual Spring Concert of the Point Loma High school is scheduled for May 28-29. The music department will have charge of the concert. The Boys' and Girls' Ensembles, the Girls' Glee, the Choir and a string ensemble will participate. Tickets for the concert are being sold by members of these groups.

Assessor Announces Important Veterans Tax Exemptions

County Assessor Crowell D. Eddy today announced that veterans who are buying real estate under contract will now be allowed to include such property in their annual claim for exemption. A recent decision of the District Court of Appeals of the State of California held that this property will be entitled to tax exemption if the veteran is otherwise qualified.

In order to obtain the exemption veterans must present their contracts at his office, together with a typewritten or photostatic copy of his files, Mr. Eddy stated. The final date for filing these claims will be Monday, June 30.

Loses Bike Continued

down broad Congress St. to capitol, spent rest of day seeing Austin, climbed the "lighthouse-like" stairs to the tip-top of the Capitol building. My bright new cap, I bought in San Antonio, blew off, disappearing from sight down over the dome.

On my way out of Austin I saw an old boat under a bridge crossing the Texas Colorado river. Got intense desire to ride the river to Columbus, about 90 miles. Was told I could have the boat if I could repair it. Slept under the bridge near the boat; cut my foot in the dark; went back to Austin for putty, linoleum and thumb tacks; repaired the boat; cut a branch, forked on both ends, for a paddle; bought a bag of fruit; loaded bike on the boat and pushed away at 3 p. m. It was luxurious drifting along on the lovely river, worth all my sweaty, tiring efforts and having to work in the muck. Passed people fishing, cattle and twisting miles of tree and vine grown bank. Turtles splashed in the water, moon lighted my way till 11 at night, when I, weary, but beautifully happy, pulled up on a gravel bar to sleep.

May 1—Set sail in the morning about 9. Sail was canvas on the forked branch (didn't work). Ate my last bananas for breakfast; thought I'd get more food at Bastrop by noon at least. At 3, still no Bastrop—and I heart-breakingly learned about rivers. Before I even suspected there were rapids, I was carried into their midst and the boat capsized. I swam and rescued my new zipper bags, they were floating and swirling every which way, blanket, sleeping roll, my purse and the boat. My wool shirt nearly dragged me down when it filled with water. I struggled out of it in a hurry.

I spread my things on the grass to dry, then exhausted myself in the rapids trying to recover my "chariot"—wailing all the while in a dazed sort of way. I laughed once and said out loud, "It's a good thing you can't drown and can wait till I rescue you." I dangled from a limb that extended far out over the river, trying to feel "Chariot" with my feet, and poled with a young sapling till I could hardly hold out against the raging river, was dragged off several times and carried downstream, climbed out, walked back. At last when I nearly went down, 'cause I couldn't fight the water anymore, I decided to rest awhile. Stretched out on my sleeping roll, quivering from hunger, exhaustion and shock, two fishermen, who hadn't heard my screams above the water's noise, saw me and came over. I explained my plight. The men said it was hopeless. There was no possible way to get Chariot except with hooks and even that would nearly be impossible. They left in their cars saying, "Too bad, it's only 7 miles to Bastrop, you'll get there before dark." That did it! I flopped on my bed roll wet and hopeless, my best friend drowning in the rushing rapids, heartless river rushing over the frame and wheels that had carried me faithfully so far! All the time I'd spent cleaning and repairing, all the money gone! My "ways and means" sunk in a bottomless hole. I ached with loneliness and despair—then a thought came—this was adventure. I stopped feeling so bad and thanked God for taking care of me.

I chased a cow, definitely not the milking kind, to fill my empty belly, but couldn't get near her. The wind blew my drying money over the meadow and I had another merry chase. In among the amazed cows and calves I carried my roll to sleep. Watching them hovering in curiosity kept me from thinking of home and Chariot and hunger. I sang and talked to them—then slept hard. All for now, is it enough?

Love, Norma.

May 8.

Dear Mom:
I bought a second-hand girl's, small tire, Iver Johnson bike in Austin. Arrived in Houston last night at 9. Found more wonderful people, beautiful country, miracles, miracles, miracles! Life is like a most fantastic fairy tale.
May 12.

Mom:

I stayed with Judy Butler in Houston. I met her in the bus depot in Bastrop, waiting for the bus that would take me back to Austin to get another bike. She gave me her address, so when I reached Houston on my new bike I looked her up. I stayed with her Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. She treated me like a daughter, a most thoughtful and understanding person.
Love, Norma.

Taylor Caldwell's "There Was a Time" Tells Story of Man's Search for God

(Book Review by Ruth Griffin)

Frank Clair almost misses God—the complete absence of hate and fear—as the reader follows him from early childhood in England to a city in the United States called "Bison" which is easily recognizable as Buffalo, N. Y. The author takes the reader from the beginning of the 20th century, through the first World War, and to the depression of the 1930's, in unfolding the story of Frank's search. He was born in a small English village near Manchester and Leeds, the child of middle class English parents, with all of their snobbery and eternal fear of poverty which finally causes them, after they have moved to America, to become miserly in their greed for money, exceeding even an understandable craving for security.

Innumerable times in the book Frank almost finds the friendship and understanding he needs, only to lose it again when the conditioning he was subjected to in early life shows up in his warped mental outlook. According to Miss Caldwell, it is fear which makes people hate and become dangerous, and it was fear which caused Frank's father to become vicious and brutal and to destroy his wife and almost destroy Frank. When Frank becomes free of this fear and hate, he also discovers realism to replace his former idealism, which was part of the cause for his disappointment and mental anguish.

Don't bother with this book if you are the kind of reader who looks for social significance or torrid love scenes for reading entertainment, because you won't find either. If you are a "Forever Amber" or a "Duel in the Sun" fan you may find this book, concerned with the workings of a man's mind—his petty fears, conceits, snobishness and the final delivery from all of this, dull reading. In the five hundred pages of this book there is, along with the ever-present excitement of the search, some very well written "atmosphere" passages which read almost like something out of a novel by Charles Dickens, especially the English beginning. (This book is available at the Ocean Beach Stationery Store lending library.)

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Heiss and sons Grady and Gary of El Centro spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Aruthur V. Harris of 2015 Ebers St.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cook of 2030 Ebers St. are entertaining Mr. Cook's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Enlow of Wiggins, Miss., for a visit of indefinite length. Mr. and Mrs. Enlow came to Ocean Beach about a week ago.

ley ball, badminton, volley tennis and ping pong.

Everyone is invited to attend the activities named above, which are offered without charge by the City Recreation Department.

Sponsors are being announced for the dramatic club which is being formed. Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Winkler, who will direct the group, will meet with the club every Thursday at 7:30.

The first project which the stenciling class will take up will be the decoration of dish towels to be used at the Community Center. Each member of the class is asked to donate the towel which she will stencil.

Suzie Shaton and Sally Bonham assisted Mrs. Lois Deason with the ceramic display which was presented at the Sportsman Show at Mission Beach.

New kitchen equipment, including dishes, silver and punch cups, was presented this week by the Recreation Department for use at the Center.

The Community Civic Committee held a pot-luck supper and business meeting at the Center on Monday night last week. Mrs. Enar Olson and Mrs. Louis Putney headed the committee in charge of arrangements.

Members of the community and directors of the Center are especially grateful to David L. Chandler of 4614 Santa Cruz for his gift of a clock to the Center building.

Softball teams for senior high, junior high, and elementary grades have been formed and are entered in the Bay District League. The junior high team was victor over Presidio last week, coming from behind and scoring 11 runs in the fifth inning, when Gene Stewart and Larry Keene each connected for a pair of home runs, and Robert Cosgrove hit a home run. The elementary team lost their first game to Cabrillo.

Future sandlot stars are in the making with the third and fourth grade team which organized for competition with other third and fourth grade teams. They have played Cabrillo twice. In the first game the score was 17 to 14 in favor of Cabrillo. In the second game Cabrillo came from behind in the last of the seventh to score two runs and come out victor with a score of 16 to 15.

like burning magnesium in chemistry lab. Earle sent me a meteor-shower calendar so I'll know when to look for shooting stars.

The hillside at camp is covered with pink and blue lupine, flame flowers, rock lilies and several other varieties.

No big adventures so far, unless bulls come under that heading. As you know, I had planned to hike overland insofar as possible, avoiding highways. But in the San Luis Rey valley especially, there were cows in what seemed to me the unlikely places. I tried to keep from trespassing on private property, but there were times when there was nothing to indicate that the property was private. It was disconcerting to come out of a canyon and be face to face with a herd of cattle. They have a big bump of curiosity, too, and would cluster around and nose my pack until it seemed like I ought to have a soap box and make a speech. No bull ever got any farther than lowering his head and roaring at me—why they didn't just charge I don't know, but I had better things to do with my time than sprint for safety with a 25-pound pack on my back and a bull six inches behind, so I made some changes in my plans.

Good luck seems to have dogged my footsteps right along. The first day my pack, worn high on my shoulders, made my shoulders and neck ache quite badly, and I tended to fall backwards when climbing in the beautiful green canyons along the San Luis Rey river. I sat down to rest and admire the thickets of wild roses, mayflowers and wild morning glories. A nice old man happened along who explained the pack should be worn as much toward the hips as possible. I tried that, and haven't had a bit of trouble since.

The next morning I visited San Luis Rey Mission. If ever a piece of architecture was a poem in itself, the Mission is, both inside and out. One of the many young Franciscan novices conducted the tour which was very inspiring. Many people don't care too much for historical things, but as for me, I could have stayed there all day looking at the centuries-old books printed by hand on parchment, the beautiful wood carving done by the Indians and especially the vestments—some as old as 300 years. I still can't see how human hands could have executed such embroidery. The Mission had also, by some means or other, acquired the table on which Christopher Columbus' remains had lain in state after his death in Spain.

San Juan Capistrano Mission was the next stop, but there I really fell in love with the village itself—partly because I met so many lovely people there and partly because it is so picturesque nestling in its orange groves. There is an old Indian population there which dates from Mission days. They and the old white families seem to resent the outsiders who are moving into the valley, but the outsiders can't be blamed—I wouldn't mind moving there myself.

The tour book on which I based my plans—and also my map—indicated San Juan Hot Springs was a fair sized resort, 13 miles from San Juan Capistrano. The signs along the road indicated the same thing and no one told me the place had been torn down. I hiked from five in the morning until 4:30 in the afternoon, through live oak forests, with never a house to be seen. On one side was the Santa Margarita ranch, which stretches for miles, but its owners are absentee. San Juan Hot Springs, however, had been torn down and abandoned. I hunted for an hour without finding fresh water and noticed that besides deer signs in the vicinity there were footprints of what seemed to be a cat animal. Although I had provisions for three days it didn't seem I could count on enough water to make Elsinore, 38 miles ahead, so the only thing to do was return to the coast. From Laguna I came to Arrowhead by bus, as until I start going along established hiking routes nothing else is practical.

There was a snowstorm at Arrowhead one morning, which was followed by a thunderstorm. Was certainly grateful for my poncho. It is an hour's walk into town, so I will have to hurry if this is going to catch the outgoing mail. Love, Evelyn.

with the first division clubs. Its still anybody's pennant in one of the most unpredictable seasons in history of the Coast league.

Manager "Rip" Collins' Padres always play better ball in their own back yard and San Diego followers are hoping that the Lane Field environment will help them get up near the top again.

Making their home town debuts in San Diego uniforms next week will be Dick Mulligan, newly acquired optionee from the Boston Braves, and Jim Olsen, who was recently discharged from the armed forces. Both Mulligan and Olsen are pitchers.

Following the Sacramento fracas, the Los Angeles Angels will invade the Border City for a seven-game series.

MR. AND MRS. R. W. ORRICK NEW GRANDPARENTS

Mrs. R. W. Orrick of 4542 Bermuda Ave. returned last week from Los Angeles where she has been visiting the past three weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Jack Wilson (Jean Orrick). During Mrs. Orrick's stay there, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilson became the parents of a baby girl, born May Day and weighing 7 pounds and 9 ounces. They chose the name Sharon Jeanne for their new daughter.

Jean Orrick Wilson graduated from the Point Loma High school with the class of 1945. Mr. Wilson is a veteran of World War II having served overseas with the army. Sharon Jeanne is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Orrick.

Christian Science Topic 'Soul and Body'

This verse from the Psalms will be the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson: Sermon on "Soul and Body" in all branches of The Mother Church. The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston: "Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God."

It is recorded in II Kings that "Elisha sent a messenger unto Naaman, the leper, saying, Go and wash in Jordan seven times, and thy flesh shall come again to thee, and thou shalt be clean. But Naaman was wroth, and went away in a rage. And his servants came near, and spake unto him, and said, My father, if the prophet had bid thee do some great thing, wouldest thou not have done it? how much rather then, when he saith to thee, Wash, and be clean? Then went he down, and dipped himself seven times in Jordan, according to the saying of the man of God: and his flesh came again like unto the flesh of a little child, and he was clean."

Mary Baker Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "When the sick or the sinning awake to realize their need of what they have not, they will be receptive of divine Science, which gravitates towards Soul and away from material sense, removes thought from the body, and elevates even mortal mind to the contemplation of something better than disease or sin."

MRS. ANTONE ROSE, nee Phyllis Monise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Monise, who became the bride of Antone Rose Sunday, May 11, at a candlelight ceremony in the St. Agnes Catholic church. Matthew Monise is co-owner of the Pacific Shores in Ocean Beach.

O. B. Women Attend State Convention of CFWC at Coronado

Many Ocean Beach clubwomen attended the state convention of the California Federation of Women's Clubs which took place at the Hotel Del Coronado this week. Mrs. La Fell Dickinson, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, arrived Tuesday in Coronado, just before the Emeritus dinner and a reception was given by the local board honoring her and state officers. "With the national chief present, the four-day session of the 44th annual convention of the California Federation really was a success," reports Mrs. C. W. Early of Ocean Beach, who is first vice-president of the County Federation. The assemblage was asked to protest two nursing bills now before the legislature, one to do away with the eight-hour law for student nurses and one which would make out-of-state nurses eligible for practice in California without examination for state licenses. Resolutions also call for building a harbor at Crescent City to break the 750 miles of coast without one and for preservation of historic landmarks.

Two, in which the Federation will be insistent, call for a change in the setup of the State Board of Equalization for issuing liquor licenses and another, "practically demanding" that the Federal and State enforcement agencies for control of narcotics do their work better and that more money and personnel be allotted to stop the prevalent smuggling and peddling of these vicious drugs.

Mrs. La Fell Dickinson, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, brought to the women a report on what clubwomen all over the world are doing to promote peace and the attitude of Russian women toward us. Of the latter she spoke from personal observation, having made a tour of Russia last summer at the invitation of the Soviet Union. She said she found them very friendly to her and the United States, eager for peace and apparently cognizant of the aid we are sending them. Communism, she said, may work in Russia, and emphasized their right to work out their own ideas of government. Here she believes we should keep it above ground, out in the open. "Those who want it should go where it is practiced," she said. Mrs. Dickinson urged women to write their congressmen urging the continuance of the experiment in universal training, now being carried on at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Warner, California Federation president, reported many achievements for public welfare carried on by the state membership. She called upon clubwomen to "go forward with greater leadership inspiring greater fellowship." She also hit upon crime stories and said they must be done away with.

Seventy-one per cent of male veterans on the Berkeley campus of the University of California served overseas.

GUESTS IN DAVIS HOME

Mr. and Mrs. S. Ortiz of Reno, Nev., were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Davis of 4955 Del Monte Ave. last week. Mrs. Ortiz is the former Lani Spencer and lived in Ocean Beach on Brighton Ave. for many years. She attended Point Loma High school and graduated in the class of 1941. The couple have lived in Reno the past six months.

A party was held in their honor at the Davis home, to renew old friendships. The evening was spent playing cards and talking over old times. Guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Seville, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dible, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Snyder, Miss Marion Boyd, Ross Miller and the Davis' daughter, Rita.

Junior Women See Display of Local Dramatic Talent

The Ocean Beach Junior Club Women, their mothers and senior Woman's club guests, enjoyed the one-act play, "That's All for the Present," Monday evening, May 19, at the clubhouse. The play was written for a Mother's Day program by Robert Brazell, drama student at State College. The play portrays the problems of two sisters, played by Mrs. James Stevens and Miss Mary Jane Brazell, and a brother, played by Robert Brazell, who didn't know what to give their mother, played by Mrs. Fred Gentles, for Mother's Day. An unusual climax topped off this fine display of local talent. Mrs. Carl Oberg directed.

Also on the program was a tap dance, "Tuxedo Junction" given by Jean Lawrence and a ballet dance, "Pizzicato Polka" by Nette Hall. Both girls are students at the Gladys Bowen dance studio.

Following the program a short business meeting was held, with Mrs. June Stevens, president, presiding. Members elected Mrs. Clark O. Woodland as senior adviser for the coming year. Miss Vesta Petersen, member of the club and principal of the Ocean Beach Elementary school, presented the educators viewpoint on the Tenney bill, which is co-authored by Senators Jack B. Tenney and Fred H. Kraft. The club voted to go on record as opposing politics entering the field of education and Mrs. Ormal Sprungman was delegated to write Senator Kraft to ask for his stand on the bill and his reason.

Mrs. B. H. Nielsen, incoming president of the Ocean Beach Senior Woman's club, was presented with a bouquet of flowers and all mothers and senior women present were given corsages of sweet peas and carnations. Mrs. James Stevens and Mrs. Paul Slaughter were in charge of the flowers.

Mrs. Carl Oberg announced the club's Spring dance, which will be held at the Shalimar club, Saturday, May 31, from 8 until 12 p. m. All members and their friends are invited and reservations can be made by calling Mrs. Oberg at B-7363.

for most of our women and they deserve the highest credit for this patriotic service. They receive no pay or commission, of course, their only reward being the knowledge that they are helping keep bright the memory of those who died in the wars and aiding those who are in need because of war sacrifices.

"This year we will have many younger women, wives and sisters of World War II veterans and women who were in service themselves, distributing poppies for the first time. By their sides will be working older women, wives of World War I veterans and mothers of veterans of the second conflict, for whom Poppy Day has been an annual service for many years. All will be giving their services to make the observance of Poppy Day a complete success in Unit 433."

Making poppies is directed by the California Department of the Auxiliary, which provides the materials. Veterans of both world wars are employed, older veterans of World War I who have made poppies in previous years working side by side with the younger disabled men of the second conflict, making the flowers for the first time.

"The work is enjoyed by the men, who benefit from it in two ways," Mrs. Fold explained. "First, making the poppies is beneficial as occupational therapy, providing interesting occupation for hands and minds during the long days of hospitalization and convalescence. Second, the money earned enables the veterans to help provide for themselves or their families and is a powerful morale builder.

"Because of the increased public response to the Legion and Auxiliary Poppy Day appeal, more veterans are being given employment this year than ever before. Every person who wears a poppy on Poppy Day, not only pays tribute to the war dead, but helps the war's living victims toward recovery and rehabilitation. Please buy a poppy!"

New Chicks

"Henny Penny," the hen in Miss Swenson's first grade, has 12 baby chicks, hatched last week. She, with some of her babies, and two first graders, were featured in a picture in the San Diego Union-Tribune on Saturday, May 17.

The group has made blueprint covers with a hen and chick design, for the record of the class activity. On Friday, May 16, a calf belonging to Susan Rogers, of Miss Swenson's first grade, visited the school, and responded happily to the petting of all the children. Mr. McLaughlin, whose child is a class member, brought the calf, and returned it to the Rogers home.

The Bay Sportsman

By Francis Hersey

HOWDY FOLKS: This has really been a hectic week, believe me. Sold our house and so have been packing up and right in the middle of it the wife gets the flu, two days later . . . me too! What a week! I was not able to get out much to get the dope on local fishing but do know that the surf men were out in force over the week-end. From Carlsbad to Pacific Beach there was hardly room to cast, and a good percentage of the folks were catching fish; no record breakers but lots of "pan fish" went home with the fishermen. According to what I hear Mission Bay is giving up some really fine croaker . . . up to 7 1/4 pounds, also halibut, flounder, sea trout and bass. Bird Rock and Sunset Cliffs produced some good fish this week-end; why don't more folks try the rock fishing that our coast offers? This type fishing is really fun and it pays off. Most any bait is good, use "Bull Durham" sacks filled with sand for sinkers, you will lose plenty of "weight" and sand is the cheapest thing I know of, try a No. 1 hook and be sure it is sharp, use your favorite bait and you will take fish. Cast into the pools and close to the grass growing from the bottom, take a float along and, if you do not get results with your bait on the bottom, rig your hooks so that they are about one to three feet from the bottom. Always use a leader of less strength than your line so that if you get "hung up" the leader will break before the line parts . . . it's cheaper that way.

The Yellowtail are plentiful and the bait good at the Coronados, only trouble is they aren't hungry yet, so catches have been spotty. "Scooters" bass and bottom fish are still being taken in good quantities at the Point Loma and La Jolla kelp beds.

Next week I am going to try and give you a good report on what goes on in some of the inland lakes, so that you folks who like to travel to get your fishing will have the right dope . . . so until then . . . adios, and happy landings.

Smart Buyers

Watch Your Pennies,
They Make Dollars

Shopping is one of the important skills in the modern housewife's trade. In these days of high and fluctuating prices it is more important than ever to be an expert. Expert shoppers—smart buyers—make ad reading a habit. They know that good ads are always good news to shoppers. Careful checking of ads saves time and trouble—promotes efficiency—and most important can save you money two ways.

Two Ways to Save Money

1. Read the ads for price savings. Merchants often offer special prices on merchandise in their ads. Ad readers take advantage of this.
2. Read the ads to save money in time and transportation. Many shoppers spend unnecessary money on transportation to distant stores in search of merchandise. Ad readers save money by patronizing the store that has what they want and is closest—they know where to find it—they saw it in an ad.

TEEN CHATTER

(By Alyce Rosa)

"The best yet!" was the unanimous opinion of the record crowd of Lomans who attended Point Loma High school's ASB ball on May 16. The Thursday club was the scene of the gay doings and Kenny O'Neal's orchestra provided the music. Potted palms and light blue lights carried out the "Twilight Trance" theme chosen by social committee co-chairmen Caryl Buell and Peggy Malm, who were in general charge of arrangements. The hilarious floor show featured Paul Forden and Ida Johnson—a wacky new comedy team who ought to turn professional; George Carter and Don Walker—just as funny as ever; and David Finster and David Thompson. Highlight of the evening came at 10:30 when Mr. L. L. Bloomenshine, principal, crowned steadies Nancy Wilhelm and Richie Stangl as King and Queen of May. Just a few of the many couples on hand at the gala semi-formal affair were Bill Seamster-Ginny Clark; Ronnie Young-Margaret Mason; Harold Bloom-Jackie Greeson; Roman Luz-Betty Steely and Roy Creelman-Doris Braden. Joyce Bischoff (squired by steady Bill Butcher) looked sooo sophisticated in her up-sweep hair-do. Another sophisticated lady was pert Lou Cure (Bill Helm was her escort, natch!) whose blonde curls were piled high on her head—her gown was of cotton print. Pink elephants frolicked about on Darlene Gardner's lovely formal (unless it was ME!)—she attended with Don Walker.

Well, Juniors, it's here at last! Yes, tonight is the night for "Undercurrent," Point Loma High school's junior prom. The girls' gym is the place for the long-awaited semi-formal dance which will feature the music of a well-known band. An aquatic theme will be carried out in the decorations, bids and entertainment according to Charlotte Henderson, general chairman. The floor show is being arranged by Manuel Silva and Ivy Wilson and Joan Jefferson is in charge of decorations. Publicity was under the direction of June Belloff.

Another dance on the calendar is the semi-annual city schools ROTC ball set for May 29 at the girls' gym of San Diego High school. The semi-formal affair is to be open bid this year—bids are being sold by all cadet officers.

Four one-act plays provided an enjoyable afternoon for the large audience which attended Point Loma High school's girls' league annual presentation of an after-school assembly. Miss Jewell-dean Brodie's fourth and fifth period classes presented "The Lost Princess," "The Knave of Hearts," "The First Dress Suit" and "A World Without Men."

Spring concert time will soon be here again—on May 28-29 the music department of Point Loma High school will present this annual feature. The Boys' and Girls' Ensembles, the Girls' Glee, the choir and string ensemble will participate. Tickets for this event, to which the public is always invited, are being sold for 50 cents by members of these groups. The May 29 performance will be followed by the traditional reception for members of the choral groups and their guests—to be given in the girls' gym.

After the recent "try-out" assembly Loman students voted for the song and yell leaders they want to represent them next fall. Song leaders will be Betty Timmons, Barbara Foran, Shirley Hill and Jeannie Miller. Leading the yells which will cheer our team on to another Metro league title will be Kenny Oliver, Wilma Sue Pense and Betty Hodge.

Another recent election at Point Loma High was that for fall term commission and girls' league officers. David Thompson, former commissioner of inter-scholastic athletics, will head the student government as commissioner of general affairs. Serving with him will be Bob Rye, commissioner of finance; Marian Irving, commissioner of girls' activities; Bill Butcher, commissioner of boys' activities; Jo Garcia, commissioner of girls' athletics; Ed Browning, commissioner of inter-scholastic athletics and Bob Williams, commissioner of publications. The commissioner of girls' activities is automatically president of the girls' league. Vice-president will be "Poppy" Wilson and secretary will be Marilyn Taliaferro.

Once again it's time for yours truly to sign off with a reminder to all you fellows and gals who do something "newsy" to call B-5745!

(Editor's Note—Most of the teenage social clubs, such as Jades, Kampus Katz, La Chere, Le Tiki, news for TEEN CHATTER call Prims, Trez-N, Zettz, J. O., Quiggs, Oaks, and Rebels, which appear in TEEN CHATTER are not sponsored or supervised by the school authorities. They are social in nature and operate outside of school under their own informal by-laws).

Current peak values of timber, food, and forage make rural fire protection doubly important this year, says a University of California College of Agriculture expert.

High tariffs and continued racial intolerance in the United States are internal policy elements which could lead to another world war, a University of California economist warns.

A daughter was born May 11 to Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Forbes of Bolinas St., Ocean Beach.

A son was born May 14 to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lux of 4960 Nar-ragansett Ave., Ocean Beach.

Mr. J. W. Rankin of 4567 West Point Loma Blvd. celebrated his birthday Wednesday, May 18. The Bible school of the O. B. Baptist church paid him a surprise visit, bringing a bounteous luncheon and presenting Mr. Rankin with a Tennyson "Birthday Book." Those present were Mrs. Woodworth, Mrs. Carrie Hin-ricks, Mrs. Clara MacVittie, Mrs. Helen Jacobs, Mrs. Josephine M. Hunter, Mrs. Leslie Krieg, Mrs. Julia Moffett, Mrs. Mary E. Shep-ley, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rankin and daughter Margaret. The house was prettily decorated with carnations and sweet peas while pink and green formed the beautiful color scheme throughout.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Smith and W. T. Scott motored to El Monte Grove last Sunday to attend the second annual picnic given by the San Diego County Employees' association. Others in attendance from Ocean Beach were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Ozmun of Long Branch Ave. and Mr. and Mrs. A. Rock and family of Ebers St.

The California pack of canned fruits and vegetables reached an all-time high in 1946, University of California survey shows.

Twenty-one successful "blue baby" operations have been performed in the University of California Medical School in the past two years.

"SHOP IN OCEAN BEACH"*Electricity is worth waiting for

PICTURE yourself cooking the easy, effortless way, with a modern fully automatic electric range. These smokeless, odorless, streamlined ranges take the "chore" out of meal-fixing. They're clean, fast and cool. Thousands of residents throughout San Diego County have applied for electric service because they want the convenience of electric cooking, water heating, laundering, dish washing, garbage disposal, refrigeration, frozen food storage and the host of other modern conveniences which only electricity provides.

And WHY some people must wait

Extending electricity to these many new customers requires TIME. All available men and equipment have been pressed into service to speed construction of new electric lines. Augmenting the work of our own line crews, 16 additional private contractor crews are building new lines for us. The new 26-mile line from El Cajon to Descanso, ready in July, is one of several new lines which will bring electricity to scores of rural families for the first time. With our greatly accelerated line construction program, new customers are now being connected at the rate of over 500 a month, reducing the number of applications on file to 4600. As each new service is cut in, this expression is frequently heard: "Now we have electricity; it was worth waiting for!"

LINDBERG FLIGHT—1927

If your memory goes back to the 1920's you'll probably be startled to realize that two decades have passed since an unknown "kid" named Charles Lindbergh flew non-stop from New York to Paris.

You may recall that he started on the morning of May 20, 1927. He arrived at the French Capital on the evening of the 21st.

That flight catapulted him to unparalleled fame and considerable fortune. It gave greater impetus to aviation and emphasized just how small this globe was becoming under man-made wings.

Since that occasion a lot has happened to Lindbergh and to aviation. The glory born of that famous flight has faded. The unrelenting glare of the public spotlight that hounded him for years, together with the tragedy that befell his child, finally drove him to virtual seclusion. His return to public life in the role of a non-interventionist just before Pearl Harbor proved a most unfortunate move.

As for aviation, in 20 years flight across the Atlantic has passed from spectacular feat to a routine operation performed almost hourly. Lindbergh's time of 33 hours from New York to Paris has been cut about one third.

As time goes on the Lindberghs of the air come and go each contributing his share, small or great, to the advance of aviation and to the progress of the world. Men span the oceans today with confidence because the pioneers of yesterday did it with little more than courage.

Regardless of what the world may think of Charles Lindbergh's personal and political views it cannot deny him his place as one of the most fearless trail blazers of the sky, one of the greatest aviators of all time.

"SELLING" THE ARMY

Army men were long skeptical about the possibilities of recruiting enough volunteers—30,000 a month—to keep America's Army at its peacetime strength of 1,070,000. But their skepticism has vanished.

The reason is that right now the Army can obtain twice that many new men each month. The "sales" campaign which our armed forces have been conducting has apparently proved far more successful than even the most optimistic of the military leaders had expected.

In "selling" the Army to American youth, it is pointed out that the Army offers either a "lifetime project" with ample opportunity for officer training, advancement and retirement benefits, or several years of broadening experience, travel and education—all at good pay.

Our peacetime Army becomes completely voluntary on July 1. It will be the largest volunteer army in the history of the world. The fact that it can be maintained at its proper strength without resort to compulsory measures is a tribute to America and its democratic processes.

Report to the County

SAN DIEGO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
by Seymour E. Francis

The Navy's boxing champions from every U. S. fleet in the world will be in San Diego from June 2 through June 7, for a tournament which will decide the Navy world champions.

From the Far East and the Mediterranean, from the Atlantic Fleet and the units stationed in Hawaii and from every Naval District will come the best fighters in the service for three sets of elimination bouts and a final evening which will determine the champions.

The fights—free to everyone—will be held in Balboa stadium. They'll start at 2 p. m. June 2, and continue at 8 p. m. that day, resume at 8 p. m. Thursday, June 5, and wind up with finals scheduled to start at 8 p. m. June 7.

It's the first all-Navy boxing tournament since the end of the war. Champions from the fleets stationed in far parts of the earth will be flown here by the Navy. Distribution of civilian tickets has been taken over by the San Diego Chamber of Commerce. Organizations can obtain free blocks of ducats by writing or calling Bob Coyner, who is head of the Special Events Department at the Chamber.

But you better get your bids in early. There are only a limited number of civilian tickets.

Coming up June 1 is the dedication of the new municipal pier at Oceanside, complete with a bathing beauty contest . . . and not too far in the future is the Pacific Beach Fiesta, also complete with bathing beauties. Right now, the men at Pacific Beach are getting all set (or unset) for a whiskerino contest.

La Jolla proved itself a gracious host to the meeting of the County Development Federation Tuesday (May 20), serving some swell New York cut steaks which had been hanging several weeks and had just enough age to taste best. The Federation, incidentally, is one of the best mediums in the county to obtain concerted action on common community problems. There's still a welcome out for any civic group in the county that wants to join.

The San Diego Chamber of Commerce has just issued a "Fishermen's Guide to Waters of San Diego County" with a map and chart showing the best places and best months to go fishing. There are lists of the persons to contact for cottages on the fresh water lakes, or for boats if you want to go deep sea fishing. The publicity department of the Chamber has a few copies available for those who want them.

HAMILTONS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hamilton of Del Monte Ave. returned May 13 from two weeks' vacation trip in Northern California. They attended the ABC bowling tournament in Los Angeles and visited in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Betty Hamilton Rhea, in Lemoore. They took in all the sights of San Francisco, Santa Cruz, San Mateo, Fresno and many other cities. Since the Hamiltons are interested in bowling they visited the ladies bowling leagues in all these cities and reported that they saw some fine leagues.

Drunk—Gee, that punch tastes good—but them fish certainly get in your way!

Dear Editor:

I would like to see more publicity given to the slogan "patronize home industry," especially bakery goods. The Los Angeles firms bring their goods here to compete with our home establishments. They do not pay taxes or employ local people. I have never seen any San Diego products displayed in the Los Angeles stores or markets.

bill at Virgil's last Saturday won't spend her money foolishly. Because, at the new prices Virgil is featuring, there's not a place in town where you get more for your money.

We asked Mrs. Loughrey what she was going to do with the money, and do you know what she said? That noble soul is going to put the money away and save it for a rainy day! Really!! She said she couldn't decide whether to have some work done on her car, buy a new living room rug, or splurge on a new outfit; so she just decided to put it away. Well, there's one consolation for those of us who didn't win. We don't have to decide what to do with the money.

Mrs. Rose Wyman of 2060 Sunset Cliffs and Mrs. Leonard Lorton of 2062 Sunset Cliffs both won $5 grocery orders. Personally, we're thinking of changing our house number to 2061. But Virgil's bounty goes on and on. Francis Lynch of 3904 Voltaire struggled home toting a box of oranges and apples. People who like to lay things end to end would probably figure that those apples would make enough applesauce to make a stream two inches wide from his home to Virgil's door. 'Course, why would anyone want to do that unless it would be to make sure he found his way back to Virgil's wonderful bargains? Good enough reason (we guess).

Doesn't it seem grand to see 5c lettuce on the market again? Or have you shopped at Virgil's yet? Well, let me tell you, these crisp, fresh heads are just as good or better than the 10 and 11 cent heads used to be. What's prettier than a crisp lettuce cup adorning a swanky salad, and do you realize how good for you it is? It's got I forget how many vitamins and minerals, and lots of that cellulose stuff, which is so good for your nerves. (Hope no doctor reads this.) But it's kind of a vicious circle. Where prices are so high that your nerves go all to pieces every time the cash register goes whrrr-ca-chink, you can't afford to buy lettuce. But here at Virgil's, where you can afford to buy it, you don't need it half as much 'cause his prices don't stab you in the chest when you see them flashing up on the cash register. Which only goes to prove that if you look long enough and hard enough, there's always something to gripe about.

Virgil's is trying to prove that the war is really over. Not only has he lowered his prices, but have you noticed how friendly everybody is in there? The old days are back, when the clerks act as if they're glad to see you, and hope you'll buy a lot of inexpensive merchandise. Or have you forgotten how you longed for those days just a short while ago? If you're a steady Virgil shopper, you have probably forgotten, because by this time you take that friendly service for granted again. Now take this Eddie guy, for instance. He's the short, dark one. Bet you never did see him without a smile on his face, whether he was checking you out, toting your box, stacking cans, or piling oranges. Cheerful little guy, isn't he? Well, what's your guess on his private life? Hold it. It's not true. He denies everything! But seriously he's got a docile little blond wife and two brunette kids. Plays poverty poker almost every Saturday night, goes to the beach with family on days off, sometimes that is, and goes hunting whenever he can get away from Virgil and his (Eddie's, that is) darling missus. Grew up on a ranch up in Northern California so he really knows his produce, and sometime, if you trip him politely as he's tearing past you, maybe you can get him to pick out the most luscious of all those luscious tomatoes in Virgil's for you.

Those low prices at Virgil's are really the talk of the town. Heard two women on the bus the other day, and the conversation went something like this.

"Mabel, did you get a package of frozen carrots for a penny today at Virgil's?"

"Yes, I did. But we don't like carrots."

"You don't like carrots? Then why did you take them?"

"Well, when there are so many high prices today, and somebody tries to give something away, I feel it's my duty to see that he's not discouraged. We consumers have got to hold up our end, too, you know."

And, do you realize how right she was? We consumers have got to help keep prices down by making our purchases at the stores that are lowering prices. That's reason enough to shop at Virgil's, even if you don't consider the high quality merchandise, friendly service and free delivery.
